Support Berkeley High School's student-run, student-written newspaper!

For a century now, the Berkeley High Jacket has been the newspaper written by and for the students of BHS. Jacket has been praised not only for its high quality news coverage, but also for its role in the greater Berkeley community. This year's Jacket promises to be full of the same student perspective—and a subscription means you will never miss an issue!

Now Jacket needs your help more than ever. This year will mark the 100-year anniversary of the Jacket and we hope to continue publishing for many years to come. However we are having trouble due to rising printing costs, our funds are running low and we need your support to continue our legacy!
