A Discussion About Critical Issues Affecting African American Boys and Men in Today’s Society

Education, mental health, culture, crime and violence are hotly debated topics today. African American boys and men are faced with many temptations such as drugs, violence and low academic expectations which often lead them away from following their paths to success. This event will focus on these issues and provide a close-up look at a wide range of issues and challenges African American boys and men face in today’s society.

ALL WELCOME!
