JOHN GALEN HOWARD: A SYMPOSIUM CELEBRATING THE WOMEN'S FACULTY CLUB

UC BERKELEY
DECEMBER 4, 2012

When we look upon UC Berkeley, our eyes become overloaded with color. We see a frontier of learning, we see research breakthroughs, we see progressive new ideas; we see students getting ready to take their place in the world. With so many vibrant colors, we often overlook the physical nature of the University itself: the buildings, their architectural characteristics, their creator, and his legacy. Join us at the Women's Faculty Club as we delve into the world of John Galen Howard, learning about his early life, his career, his role at the university, and his work on the Women's Faculty Club and its implications for women at Berkeley.
